HOW HAWAII WAS CARRIED FOR HEARST

R. B. Kidd tells something of the way that the Hearst boom was handled in the Hawaiian Islands, so that the convention instructed its delegates to vote for the New York Congressman.

In the organization of the party said Mr. Kidd, Col. C. P. Laukae assisted by Senator P. P. Woods and others, were especially successful on Hawaii. The natives on that island demanded that Laukae come to them and explain Democracy. He went and the result was shown in the convention. F. H. Hayselden and John Richardson of Lahaina effected an organization in their precincts on very short notice. Their showing under the circumstances was wonderful. Ben Lyons, J. L. Coke, L. R. Crook and W. H. Cornwell on the other side of the island were also equally successful. On the island of Oahu there was an organization in almost every precinct. The organization in the city of Honolulu was of course, thorough, but in the outside districts the showing was not very good.

These organizations were not effected as Hearst clubs, but by effecting the nucleus, the propaganda work for Hearst could be directed to concentrated and effective quarters.

"One very strong element which contributed to the success of the Hearst campaign was the attitude taken by the organized laboring men of Honolulu. White men and natives came together about a month before the primaries and effected an organization. It was known as the Hearst Club. In that organization were men representing all trades and professions. The Hawaiians took an especial interest in the movement by the Hearst Club and attended every caucus and contributed materially in assisting the white members in the work. This club enabled me to feel sure of the precinct organization throughout the city. The organization was well effected by the club and it did splendid work. The members of the club have good reason to feel gratified over their share in the work. The club was organized for the purpose of helping to send an instructed Hearst delegation to St. Louis. This was accomplished. Dr. Noblitt, the president of the club, was sent as one of our delegates to St. Louis, and myself, the secretary of the organization, was selected as an alternate. This organization stood solid throughout the fight.

"There was one special thing which was very interesting. As the Hearst movement developed and I talked with people, many predicted that the natives would dump us at the last minute and that they would go back on their pledges. I found these warnings to be absolutely untrue. The Hawaiian showed true loyalty. In that convention were from 30 to 35 natives who had agreed to work and support us in our fight. On every occasion these men helped the fight and when the final test came, they voted to a man in favor of the resolution for instructions.

"There was talk of the 'Hearst Barrel.' Much was heard of it but nothing seen. There was good reason for the latter condition, because there was no barrel. Whatever contributions for campaign purposes were made came from private sources and never at any time was there anything like a barrel. As a matter of fact, the real condition in this respect soon became evident, and the Hearst barrel from becoming the reality that some had hoped came to be regarded as a joke."

RECEIVED BY THE QUEEN

Ex-Queen Liliuokalani received the delegates from the Island of Hawaii to the Democratic Territorial Convention, in audience at her Washington Place residence at 10 o'clock this morning. All the delegates from the Big Island, who came down to the convention some score or so were presented to her majesty. A brief address was made to her on behalf of the delegates and she responded briefly. Light refreshments were served.

THE WAITYS TO LEAVE

A Well Known and Well Liked Family To Sail.

Henry E. Waity and family sail by the Santiago June 16 for the coast. They expect to go up into the Siesta country for the summer at least, in the hope that the climate there will restore Mr. Waity's health.

Mr. Waity has been for many years a victim at times of a severe throat disorder. About three years ago he suffered severely from it, but a winter spent in Colorado restored his health. For some months past, however, he has been suffering from it again, and of late it has been so severe and distressing that a departure from this climate is imperative. As this climate does not seem favorable to the disorder, Mr. Waity and his family do not expect at this time to return here again. He hopes for a restoration of health in the region of Mt. Shasta, and then to establish himself in business in some climate less unfriendly to him than this.

He is closing out all of his business and property interests. He hopes much from the sea trip, such voyages in the past having always proven beneficial. Mrs. Waity, their daughter, and Mrs. Waity's mother go with him. They have lived here a number of years, and have made many friends who regret that Mr. Waity's health compels them to go and who hope that his health will be speedily restored.

WOMAN'S BOARD.

The annual meeting of the Woman's

Board of Missions is being held in Central Union Church today.

Contrary to the usual custom there was no morning session, but the annual luncheon was served promptly at noon. Gentlemen friends of the Board as well as ladies were cordially invited to enjoy the social hour and many responded.

The afternoon session opened at 1:30. The story of mission work in our midst is being told.

RAIN REPORT OF HAWAII

PLENTY OF SHOWERS IN THE KONA AND KAU DISTRICTS—PALA MILL HAS SHUT DOWN.

The steamer Mauna Loa arrived this morning from her run to Maui and Hawaii ports. She brought a small crowd of passengers but had a large assortment of freight, including 5,000 sacks of sugar.

Purser Conkling reports that the earthquake shock which was felt in Honolulu last Saturday was quite general about the island of Hawaii. The earthquake occurred shortly after the noon hour.

There has not been an equal distribution of rain about the big island during the past ten days. There have been light showers in the Kona and Kau districts but no rain has fallen in Hamakua since June 1. There have been plenty of rain showers in the mountains.

Pahala and Honouliuli have been grinding steadily for some time past. They have had plenty of water. Pahala has shut down for ten days for a thorough overhauling.

HOLLOWAY TO HAWAII

Superintendent of Public Works Holloway left on the Kinu today for Hawaii accompanied by Guy Gere, engineer of the department for that island, to look after public works on that island. Holloway will investigate several roads and other propositions and will hasten the expenditure of some appropriations for which Hilo people are agitating. The superintendent had a conference yesterday with the acting governor and it was decided to expedite the work as much as possible.

IN CAMP TOMORROW

About 400 men are expected to turn out tomorrow morning for the annual encampment of the National Guard with the regulars at Camp McKinley. Yesterday Acting Governor Atkinson cabled to the War Department asking that permission be sent for that number to join the encampment and an answer was received giving the desired permission. The number which had been authorized was 200.

The men go into camp this time with the new army tents received from the federal government since the last encampment. There will be 200 of the new tents. All will be sent to Camp McKinley early tomorrow morning and the soldiers will put them up and proceed to organize camp. The encampment will be a good deal larger than last year.

BALDWIN NOW UNDER ARREST

Land Agent Baldwin of Hilo has been arrested and is held for embezzlement of public funds. Attorney General Andrews took the Kinu at noon today for Hilo, to take up the matter. The charge will be presented at once before the district court of Hilo and Baldwin will be either released or bound over to answer to the next grand jury of the Fourth Circuit Court.

The basis of the charge which it has been decided to prosecute is in new developments revealed just at the time of the departure of Deputy Attorney General Prosser, who attended the Hilo term of court. The grand jury at that term brought no indictment against Baldwin. A number of land office matters were looked into, and it is stated that there were startling revelations of unbusinesslike methods in vogue in the land department. After the adjournment of the jury further irregularities were brought to light, and a report on them was made by Prosser on his return.

The charges against Baldwin are in connection with money received from right of purchase leases, which it is claimed have never been turned in to the government at all. The patents are also undelivered to those who paid the money, it is stated, and the attorney general will prosecute Baldwin for embezzlement of the amounts. It is said that there may be quite a number of charges, though the amount as far as known is not large. The sum at present in question is about $700.

Auditor Fisher went with Andrews, as a witness for the Territory. Fisher took with him some of the office records as evidence.

The order for the arrest of Baldwin was sent by wireless yesterday afternoon. This morning Andrews received a reply stating that Baldwin had been apprehended.

hereafter the bell will be sounded as usual during thick or foggy weather. By order of the Light-House Board, W. P. DAY, Commander, U. S. N., Inspector 12th Light-House District.

Frank D. Creedon, the governor's private secretary, leaves by the Alameda to visit his relatives in San Jose, and later to represent the Ancient Order of Hibernians at the National Convention of the order at St. Louis in July.

The Hilo company is expected tomorrow morning on the Helene. A wireless has been sent giving orders for the encampment, and it is believed that the complete company will come. The orders issued are for assemblage at the headquarters at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

All government employees who are members of the National Guard will be released from their duties as far as is possible to allow them to attend. They will be given full salary for the few days they are away. "I think it is only proper that such encouragement should be given to the militia," said Acting Governor Atkinson, "and that those who are adding the militia should be assisted in so doing. I hope that private firms who employ members of the soldiery will pursue the same policy."
